

having permitted the use of the label by firms who are not entitled to said use.

Now we wonder what the brother would have us do; even should we assume that these charges are true, and even that for a money consideration President Tobin had placed the label in unfair factories, and had sanctioned the breaking of a strike; should we, for all this, advise our readers not to buy shoes bearing the union label?

Because one man, or one hundred men, in an organization go wrong, are we justified in condemning the whole organization? Would it not be better to advise our readers to support the label even if when they do so they may now and then get a pair of "unfair shoes, than to advise them to buy shoes they know to be unfair? Because there may be some printing establishments using the label where unfair conditions prevail, shall we discard the printers' label on our stationery and advise our members to patronize unfair shops? Hardly. And should John F. Tobin be proven guilty of the charges, and should every officer of his organization be found equally guilty, these pages will still advocate the purchase of goods of every kind which bears the stamp indicating that union conditions exist where they are made. We believe the Boot and Shoe Workers are amply able to attend to their own affairs without any of our interference. We will continue to carry this "ad."

"JACKASS BUT NO SCAB."

The above illustration is a photo of the Labor day display of the Harriman Lines Shop Federation of Ogden, Utah, and was the cause of the arrest of Vice-President Ames of the International Association of Machinists on a charge of disorderly conduct brought against him by a Mrs. John Oliver, wife of a scab, who claimed the motto was an insult to her husband herself and their children. In her effort to feel in-
