EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

PUBLIC FINANCING FOR PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

HON. RICHARD S. SCHWEIKER
OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

Monday, November 19, 1973

Mr. SCHWEIKER. Mr. President, last week I joined with my colleague from Minnesota, Mr. MONDALE, in testimony on public financing of Presidential primary elections.

Provisions of our bill, S. 2238, the Presidential Campaign Financing Act, dealing with public financing of Presidential general and primary elections, have been included in a comprehensive public campaign financing amendment we introduced last Tuesday to the debt ceiling bill, H.R. 11104.

Because of the crisis in confidence in our Government today, it is essential for Congress to exercise dramatic leadership in reforming our campaign processes to help recover from the scandals of Watergate and the gross improprieties and violations of law that surrounded financing of the Presidential elections in 1972. The debt ceiling extension bill will be acted upon this month. I can think of no single step that can provide greater assurance to the people of our country that Congress can, and will, provide necessary reform legislation than for us to endorse public financing as an amendment to this bill.

Mr. President, I request unanimous consent that the joint statement of Senator MONDALE and myself that was presented to the Senate Finance Committee be printed in the Record.

There being no objection, the statement was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

Two important points remain clear to everyone: (1) First, it was Watergate that brought about this crisis of confidence.

(2) Second, it was the existence of unlimited campaign money that brought about Watergate.

The seemingly endless unrolling of the Watergate affair has testified more eloquent-
